PROJECTS

Olympic Games Data Analysis using SQL

Self Project • April 2023 – April 2023

- I obtained a dataset and loaded the data into a SQL database, and began exploring it using basic SQL queries to identify trends and patterns in the data.
- To perform more advanced analysis, I used complex functions like COALESCE to handle null values in the data and ensure that the results were accurate.
- Additionally, I used the PIVOT function to transform rows of data into columns, which allowed me to view the data in a more meaningful way.

Stack Overflow Developer Survey Data Analysis on Python

Self Project • April 2023 – April 2023

- Cleaned and processed the raw survey data using Python libraries such as Pandas and NumPy to prepare it for analysis.
- Used Python's data visualization libraries such as Matplotlib and Seaborn to create visualizations that helped to identify trends and patterns in the survey data.

Netflix dashboard on Tableau

Self Project • March 2023 – March 2023

- Designed and developed a Tableau dashboard to visualize Netflix trends data.
- Utilized various Tableau features, such as bar charts, heat maps, and line charts, to visualize the data in an interactive and intuitive manner.
- Created interactive filters and parameters to allow users to explore the data and make data-driven decisions.
